

THE ENFYYS

HOLLOW

Would you miss me in your daily life
When I no longer walk by your side you are not the type of person who understands That love is a gift we all hold in our hands
When I spend evenings with my mates
drinking shots dancing the night away
Yet feel like moving solo at the bar
It's bizarre

You wish for affection and for sure greater expression
You claim I gave too little and didn't really understand
Your word is a crucial one
And just so relevant for how it's going on
You never really took it seriously, seriously, seriously

Would I miss you when I go to sleep at night and find myself alone in the mirror light, the mirror light Not having you as usual by my side knowing that you won't be lying next to me in the morning time
When I spend evenings with my mates
drinking shots dancing the night away
Yet feel like moving solo at the bar
It's bizarre

You wish for affection and for sure greater expression
You claim I gave too little and didn't really understand
Your word is a crucial one
And just so relevant for how it's going on
You never really took it seriously, seriously, seriously

Seriously seriously seriously

I feel so hollow hollow
I feel so hollow hollow
hollow hollow

You wish for affection and for sure greater expression
You claim I gave too little and didn't really understand
Your word is a crucial one
and just so relevant for how it's going on
You never really took it seriously, seriously, seriously
